Dear Mr Jesus L R Mateo,

Subject: Request Assistance to Share Information — the 9th AISOFOLL

SEAMEO QITEP in Language (SEAQIL) has a mandate to improve the quality of language teachers and education personnel within Southeast Asia region. SEAQIL consistently organises various programmes in line with the mandate; an annual international symposium is one of them. Our International Symposium of Foreign Language Learning (AISOFOLL) serves as a platform for discussion on current trends in language education.

This year, we are going to hold our 9th AISOFOLL on 17–18 October 2018 at Abria Hotel Gading Serpong, South Tangerang, Indonesia. We invite language teachers, education practitioners and researchers (from within and beyond Southeast Asia) to present papers, share good practices and discuss all matters related to this year's theme: "Bringing Multiliteracies to Language Teaching".

With this regards, we would like to ask your kind assistance in publishing the enclosed leaflet on the ministry's official website. We would also highly appreciate it if you could disseminate the information to language teachers and education practitioners in your respective country.

Kindly email Ms Hasanatul Hamidah or Ms Rina Dwiyanita at aisofoll@gmail.com should you need further information on the symposium.

Thank you very much for your kind assistance and attention.

Yours sincerely,

Bambang Indaryanto
Director
SEAMEO QITEP

CALL FOR PAPERS

RATIONALE

SEAMEO QITEP in Language (SEAQIL) has a mandate to improve the quality of teachers and education personnel in language area. SEAQIL holds various programmes in accordance with the mandate; annual symposium is one of them. Since 2010, SEAQIL has conducted a scientific forum called Annual International Symposium of Foreign Language Learning (AISOFOLL). AISOFOLL aims to provide a platform for teachers, language education practitioners and researchers to present their research results, best practices or ideas on latest trends of language education within the country, in the region or in the large scale: the world.

This year, SEAQIL takes "Bringing Multiliteracies to Language Teaching" as the theme for its 9th AISOFOLL. Multiliteracies is the ability to identify and communicate meaning through the use of various communication media (oral, audio, visual, spatial and gestures). On the other hand, multiliteracies is an indispensable approach in the 21st century learning.

Students are expected to master several skills required in the 21st century: namely critical thinking, problem solving, creativity, collaboration and communication through multiliteracies. Students will also be adaptable and more competent in solving problems facing today's communication means. In addition, multiliteracies create readiness learning since the communication on various lives.

To maximize the aforementioned advantages of multiliteracies, SEAQIL invites teachers, language education practitioners and researchers to present their research results and ideas on latest trends of language education within the country, in the region or in the large scale: the world.

• Methods and strategies in the Multiliteracies of Language Teaching

• Multiliteracies in the 21st Century Learning
