Dear Madam:

Pax!

The School of Arts and Sciences through the BA Communication Program hosts the on-going advocacy on fighting disinformation dubbed as I Am Real: Fighting against Fake News of the university which was launched last February 2018.

After a year of implementation, various significant partnerships have been forged including the Disinformation and Democracy Consortium.

The network includes members from ABS-CBN, Al-Jazeera, GMA, the Philippine Daily Inquirer, Rappler, Vera Files; the UP College of Mass Communication, the De La Salle University Communication Department, the Ateneo de Manila Department of Communication, and the Asian Institute of Journalism and Communication; Blogwatch; Center for Media Freedom and Responsibility, Citizen Safe, the Foundation for Media Alternatives, and Pagbabago@Pilipinas.

This November 20, 2019 the consortium will host a National Conference on Disinformation at Holy Angel University at 8:00am-5:00pm at the PGN Auditorium. Lined-up workshops include fact-checking, digital security for women, and participatory democracy.
