DRA. LEILANI S. CUNANAN
DIVISION SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT
ANGELES CITY

Dear Madam Lani,

Shalom!

I am writing you to formally introduce and offer the seminar module I was talking about during our informal meeting in your office about a week ago. While the overall concept and basic content is still along the line of the Culture of Gathering, I have added other related topics and have given it a new title, "Together, To Gather". Its main objective, as you will notice in the topic outline attached to this letter, is to provide the teachers a new perspective in understanding their work load as educators thus inspiring them to be more creative and resourceful.

The topics and insights in the said module were borne out of my personal observations and occasional encounters with public school teachers. Being a product of a public school education myself, I am aware of the sacrifices and the challenges of being a teacher. I really hope that through this updating program, I will be able to contribute in your efforts to elevate the level of standard of public education.

Though it has been designed as a whole day activity, it can be adjusted according to the time availability of the target participants, although best results are expected if conducted according to its original schedule. I hope you will consider it as one of the possible on-going formation activities of your teachers during the summer break. I guarantee you it is going to be an engaging, insightful, motivational, and enjoyable exercise.

Thank you for the kind attention. May the Good Lord guide, bless and keep you always.

Respectfully yours,

Amung Cris Cadiang
