Due to unavoidable circumstances, the 5th *Capacity Building and Certification Course for Flexible Learning Tutors (FLT)*s has been rescheduled from July 1 to 6, 2019 to July 15 to 20, 2019. The event will still be held in Fukui and Nara Prefectures, Japan, in cooperation with the United Graduate School of Professional Development of Teachers of the University of Fukui, Nara Women's University, and Gifu Shotoku Gakuen University.

The 5th Capacity Building and Certification Course is part of SEAMEO INNOTECH's continuing professional development program for Flexible Learning Tutors. The training program is designed to update the FLT's on the new and current practices in flexible learning pedagogy, specifically on the following areas:

 - b. Joint Graduate Diploma Program
2. Competency Framework for Online Course Facilitators
3. Japanese teaching practices and methods

May we reiterate our earlier invitation to you to take advantage of this professional development program and to collaborate with other online learning experts. Given our long-standing partnership, we are charging a minimal workshop fee of Five hundred dollars (500 USD) per participant, to cover the cost of meals during the workshop, local transportation, and certification. The workshop fee, however, does not include airfare, accommodation, visa application, and travel costs (i.e. travel taxes, airport terminal fees, and per diem).

Kindly confirm your participation by accomplishing the registration form through this link: bit.ly/FLTJapan2019.
